

NEIGHBOR NEEDS NO INTRODUCTION TO MISS WILSON

Daughter of President Dances
With Young Men at Greenwich Social Center Without Formality in Presentation.

GY GOTHAM KNICKERBOCKER.

NEW YORK, March 10.—What would you think of seeing the president's daughter dancing with a young man to whom she had not been introduced in a public dancing place?

Sounds pretty unreasonable, what? Yet that's just what I did observe when I visited public school No. 41, Greenwich av. and Charles st. Yesterday, Miss Margaret Wilson once lived in Greenwich Village. So she considered herself a neighbor of the young man in question. And introductions aren't needed among neighbors, are they?

Miss Wilson is intensely interested in the work which is being done to uplift this section of Manhattan. It is a curious place, a kind of oasis in the desert of down town. The sweep of the progress up town has left it strangely quiet and old fashioned. It has 1815 written all over it. The inhabitants are largely the children of early New Yorkers who never made enough money to move to Fifth av. or to own a country estate.

But to get back to that dance. "We are all neighbors here, together," said Charles H. Bohlen, who runs the Greenwich Commonwealth, which conducted the dance. He said this just as a second young man (also un-introduced) came in and took the president's daughter away from the first un-introduced young man. Before the music paused Miss Wilson had danced with four young men of the village. She is always glad to dance with any decent young man—no matter who he is, if he's decent—and all our young men are decent, explained by friend, Mr. Bohlen.

REFORM AT THE TOMES.
Another picturesque bit of New York life is being eliminated pretty rapidly by that industrious young woman, Mrs. "Katie" Davis, our new commissioner of corrections. She threw up her hands in horror at the heavy old custom she found in our famous basins of soap to get a new broom and made a clean sweep. She has even dared to squelch the insidious evil of the woman charity worker, which is still in great vogue at Sing Sing.

Why, it's come to such a pass that it's almost impossible to pass a "shot o' hop" to a friend temporarily detained.

A young woman called to see her husband, accused of petty larceny. She submitted to a search of her person. This has been the rule always, of course, but the Davis search was like the traditional style. Miss Davis's underling went so far that the young woman became very nervous.

Hatpin Lands Her in Cell.
The searcher became more curious and especially interested in a pretty little hat pin. It had a long, black, shiny head. And the pin was rudely drawn from her hat. It was hollower in fact had once served as the cap of a fountain pen. White cotton was packed inside and the core was a quantity of white powder. "About four grains of powder," said Dr. Lieberstein, the Tombs physician. So the young woman was soon occupying a cell near her husband.

The "morbidity parties" are a thing of the past, too. These sightseeing expeditions have been a special joy to the New Jersey commuters. In fact there are rumors that certain railroads have run special excursions that ruralists might be "satisfied" by a view of some of the famous Tombs residents. A walk over the Bridge of Sighs brought thrills to the New Jersey heart.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs"
Best for Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "doses" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by California Fig Syrup Company. Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

STRIKE RIOTERS STIRRING ROME

Violent Disorder Accompanies
Labor Upheaval in "Eternal
City" and 20,000 Troops
Are Called Out.

ROME, March 10.—Violent disorder marked the second day of the general strike of 100,000 workmen in this city. In one fight between strikers and police 30 persons were hurt and many strikers arrested.

Nearly 20,000 soldiers, infantry and cavalry, are on duty throughout the city. Strong guards have been provided for all public buildings especially the Quirinal, where the king and queen reside.

Although the employers made concessions to the men by which, it was hoped, the strikers would be induced to return to work, the leaders declared that the strike would go on indefinitely. The leaders in the movement have renewed their demands for changes in the laws governing hospitals by which working men would be benefited. It is apparent, however, that the real object of the strike is to test the strength and cohesion of the trades leaders.

HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Soft, Fluffy, Abundant—Use
Parisian Sage—It Stops
Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

If your hair is not as soft and beautiful, or as fresh and full as that of some friend, do not despair, for as she does—give it daily attention. Beautiful hair is largely the matter of a little care. If it is too thin, make it grow. If it is too dry and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp and dandruff will go.

Parisian Sage, sold in 50-cent bottles at drug and toilet counters, is just what you need—it softens the scalp, nourishes the hair roots, immediately removes dandruff, and makes the hair wavy, lustrous and abundant.

Parisian Sage quickly stops itching head; cleanses the scalp, and the excessive oil; takes away the dryness and brittleness, makes it seem twice as abundant, and beautifies it until it is soft and lustrous.

Parisian Sage has disappointed in Parisian Sage. Always sold at Wet-lick's Kut Rate Medicine Store on money back if not satisfied plan. Look for the trade mark—"The Girl with the Auburn Hair." It's on every package—accept nothing else.—Adv.

DENIES MILITIA ATTACKED WEAK

Commander of Michigan National Guard Asserts Clashes in Upper Strike Region Due to Aggressiveness of Strikers

CHICAGO, March 10.—Charges made by striking copper miners that the militia had attacked women and children and strikers during the strike in the upper Michigan peninsula were flatly denied Monday before the congressional investigation committee by Brig. Gen. Percy L. Abbey, in command of the Michigan national guard, and several other officers and privates.

The charge of drunkenness as made by the miners was also denied. Instead of committing the overt acts charged it was said that every clash that occurred had been caused by the aggressive tactics of the strikers in their assaults on miners who were being escorted to work.

It was declared by the militiamen that there had been no attack on the American flag on Sept. 12, as testified at the hearing at South Bend; that the American flag was carried by the strikers to gain sympathy from the public and that it was also used as a weapon in attacking the soldiers or strike-breakers.

Congressman Taylor of Colorado, is chairman of the congressional committee, which is holding the hearing. The other members of the committee are Congressman Taylor of Arkansas, and Congressmen Case, Howell and Switzer.

The clash between my company and the strikers that occurred near Continental Heights was caused by women and men throwing stones at the soldiers while escorting miners to work," said Capt. Frank Blackman. "There were no women injured, as has been charged and only one man complained at the time of being assaulted. During the trouble my watch was taken while a crowd surrounded us and endeavoring to capture the strike-breakers. The charge that I hit a woman with a sabre is positively untrue. My sabre was in the armory. My only weapon was a pistol."

Capt. Blackman then told of the alleged riot during which he was charged the American flag was taken away from a parade by soldiers and trampled in the dust.

Struck With Flag.
"Tony Slavonash was carrying the flag when I appeared at the head of the strikers' parade," said Capt. Blackman. "He had it outstretched horizontally and he asked me to permit him to blow in the breeze. Then he flung the flag to the ground and walked over it. My idea is that the flag was carried to be used as a weapon."

Clarence L. Miller, of the signal corps, said that he was riding at the side of the same parade when some one who picked up the discarded flag attacked him.

"He tried to spear me with the staff of the flag," said he.

"Why did they carry a flag?" asked Atty. O. N. Hilton, who is representing the miners.

"Simply to gain the sympathy of the public," replied Miller.

Frank Horton, a militiaman, said he had been attacked by women with brooms.

John W. Dunnwind, a Detroit newspaper man, said that during his stay in the strike region he had seen only four soldiers under a power of attorney; that he saw one soldier, but no strikers attacked and that every report of assaults made by soldiers upon strikers that he had investigated were found untrue.

Brig. Gen. Abbey testified that all trouble in the strike region was caused by strikers and sympathizers throwing stones and attacking men on their way to work.

"My policy was to not interfere with parades," said he. "I never told any one that the morning parades of the strikers should not be held. We paid no attention to meetings of the strikers. After the flag incident we had a court of inquiry investigate the charges made and found them to be as stated."

The proceedings of the court of inquiry and a picture of the flag incident were submitted as evidence. Frequent objections to the testimony were made by the miners' attorney and they gave the witnesses a grilling cross-examination without changing their testimony.

Charles H. Meyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, will appear before the committee tomorrow and tell of his deportation from the copper region.

Fifth st., moved to Mishawaka Monday.

Miss Anna Bright, pastor of the Free Methodist church, has been ill the past week.

Mrs. E. W. Evans entertained a number of friends from South Bend yesterday. The afternoon was spent socially and refreshments were served.

CROSS EXAMINATION REVEALS LIFE SECRETS

Attorneys Delve Into Past Life of Former Mayor of Michigan City.

LAPORTE, Ind., March 10.—The cross-examination of Fred C. Miller before Special Judge Hubbard in the action for $25,000 damages for defamation of character, revealed many of the life secrets of the two-term mayor of Michigan City. He admitted having been fined for violation of the federal liquor law, to the giving of a mortgage which his wife signed to property in the red light district of Michigan City and that while mayor, he sold a saloon commonly known as the "Bucket of Blood" to a brother-in-law.

The defense laid the ground work for the testimony of Fred C. Krueger, who is prominent in Michigan City politics, by questioning Miller as to his having stated to Krueger that with his salary as mayor, together with revenue from his saloon and holdings across the city's resort district, his income was a good one.

Miller vigorously denied a conversation of the character indicating the Hutchinsons' attorneys. Other evidence was given by W. B. Baker, A. J. Anderson, Frank Blair and Julius Giesmer that they had attended a political meeting at the Hutchinson home, at which Miller's active connection with the red light district was discussed. Hutchinson, at the time, linking Miller's name with houses of prostitution.

Evidence was also given that the ill feeling between the two men had been further embittered by failure of the mayor to secure the putting over of the telephone ordinance in which Hutchinson was financially interested. The plaintiff closed Monday afternoon and the defense today began the introduction of evidence of the several scores of witnesses.

The case which Ellis is now seeking to have tried again is a suit to quiet title and to recover possession of some land in Mishawaka. UNEMPLOYED ARMY DRIVEN FROM CITY PRESENTS PROBLEM

"Gen." Kelly's Band, Clubbed
Out of Sacramento, Suffers
Loss by Desertions—Sheriffs and Firemen on Guard.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 10.—Clubbed out of the city, driven from one camping place to another by streams of water from fire hose, hungry and cold, the army of 10,000 unemployed men who started from San Francisco to Washington were making a serious problem for the city and county officers today. Sheriff Munroe declared that the army must leave the county before tonight. Five hundred of the original army have deserted and scattered to various cities in this section of the state. The remainder are a sullen lot and trouble is anticipated when the authorities attempt to send them out of the county.

Every bridge is guarded by police and deputy sheriffs and fire engines with long lines of hose are ready to sweep them back.

Hundreds of extra deputies were sworn in to patrol the residence districts Monday night. Many citizens are taking firearms to their homes. The army was driven out of the city after it refused to leave the Southern Pacific sand lot. When a powerful stream from a hose was turned on them and clubs began to fly, the men fled. Hundreds of them were beaten, several into unconsciousness. Half a dozen police were slightly injured in the riots. As they went, the unemployed picked up rocks and paving stones, and shattered windows in street cars and a few stores.

"Gen." Kelly, leader of the unemployed, and 20 of his lieutenants, were placed under arrest on vagrancy charges and locked up in the city prison.

Monday night the draw bridges which span the Sacramento river into Yolo county, where the army has taken a stand, are being kept raised and a heavily armed guard is patrolling the river bank.

On the Yolo county side of the river steps have been taken to maintain order. A special train loaded with county officers and deputies from Woodland and other nearby towns arrived here late Monday afternoon and a vigilance committee was organized.

Late Monday evening several attempts were made to rush the bridges by the unemployed, but they were driven back and the guards who have orders to "shoot to kill if necessary."

The only shot fired during the day's rioting was accidental. Lieut. Harry "Chall" of the National guard of Sacramento dropped his pistol while awaiting orders at the arsenal and shot himself in the leg.

Five hundred members of the militia are stationed at the arsenal ready for active duty, but Gov. Johnson Monday night said they would not be called out until such action had been issued by Adj. Gen. Forbes, who is keeping in close touch with the situation.
